

Acknowledgements

On behalf of the SSAJM Executive Team, I would like to extend our deepest gratitude to all our readers, authors, and scholars who continue to support, engage with, and contribute to this journal. Your curiosity, dedication, and commitment to lifelong learning are the driving forces that keep this journal alive and thriving.

Research is more than the pursuit of answers—it is the collective effort to push the boundaries of knowledge, challenge assumptions, and improve the world around us. Every submission, every article read, and every idea shared strengthens the foundation upon which science and medicine progress. Your contributions fuel innovation, inspire future scholarship, and play a vital role in advancing society.

This year has brought its share of challenges and unexpected hardships. Yet, through perseverance, collaboration, and an unwavering devotion to scholarship, we have overcome these obstacles. It is because of your continued support and resilience that we are proud to present this next issue.

Thank you for believing in the power of research, for sharing your work with us, and for helping us continue this mission. We look forward to growing, learning, and discovering alongside you in the issues ahead. The team would also like to express our heartfelt appreciation to Dr. Edwin Mogda, whose fearless leadership and remarkable technological expertise continue to elevate our journal. His innovation, dedication, and steady guidance remain cornerstones of our success.

We also express our gratitude to Dr. Tejas Nikumbh, whose fun, engaging approach—and the calm wisdom he brings from his parenting skills—have helped keep the journal organized, balanced, and always moving forward.

A special acknowledgment goes to Dr. Amninder Singh, whose wealth of statistical knowledge has been invaluable. Having recently matched into a Cardiology fellowship, he embodies excellence and will undoubtedly become an exceptional Cardiologist.

We are deeply thankful for Nathan Cardona, the true glue of our journal team. His dependability, coordination, and behind-the-scenes effort ensure that every part of the process comes together seamlessly.

Finally, we recognize Dr. Keerthy Gopalakrishnan, a remarkable physician whose professionalism is matched only by her extraordinary personality. Her presence and contributions add depth, warmth, and excellence to our work.

Together, this team represents the spirit, dedication, and collaborative strength that make our journal possible.

Sincerely,

Peter Iskander, MD

Peter Iskander, MD
Co-Founder & Chief Editor